FACULTY OF ARTS AND HUMANITIES

ENGLISH AND WRITING STUDIES

Effective September 1, 2014, Writing 1031F/G be introduced.

Writing 1031F/G – Global Positioning: Introduction to Rhetoric and Professional Communication

This course will introduce students to the rhetorical principles and practices of written and oral communication in professional contexts. Particular attention will be paid to understanding audience, context, and purpose; modes of persuasion; and the negotiation of cultural difference.

Antirequisite(s): Writing 2111F/G

3 lecture hours, 0.5 course

Effective September 1, 2014, Writing 2226F/G be revised.

Writing 2226F/G -- Out of the Book: Creative Writing in the Digital Age Contemporary Experimental Writing Practices

This experimental creative writing course explores the intersection of text and technology. Students will use a variety of media (sound, image, video), online platforms (blogs, Twitter, websites), and source material (original and found) in the creation and dissemination of innovative literary works. Assignments will incorporate appropriation, collage, montage, and sampling.

In this experimental creative writing course students use a variety of media, online platforms, and source material to create innovative projects that challenge traditional modes of literary expression. They will be introduced to experimental writers/artists—Marcel Duchamp, William Burroughs, Kathy Acker, Laurie Anderson, etc. Assignments will incorporate appropriation, collage, and sampling.

Antirequisite(s): Writing 2295G if taken in 2012-2013 or 2013-2014.

Prerequisite(s): At least 65% in one of Writing 2101F/G, Writing 2121F/G, Writing 2111F/G, or Writing 2131F/G; or at least 70% in one of Writing 1000F/G or Writing 1030F; or permission of the Department (consult the Undergraduate Program Director, Writing).
